BBC 10 Pieces - Led by Sue Nicholls & Hilary Miles

Course Code: MU 20156-01

Course Objectives

- To inspire colleagues to get the best from the BBC 10 Piece resources
- To introduce brand new resources and materials for you to use in the classroom that are free for colleagues to use and develop in their own schools after the training

Course description

Come and experience new and exciting materials devised to extend the BBC's 'Ten Pieces' initiative into classroom music-making. Brand new songs and performances plus accessible ideas for composing and improvisation, created to ensure the legacy of the BBC's initiative.... and all aimed at generalist practitioners. A practical workshop training day to inspire you and rekindle your pupils' interest in classical music.

Important: please bring a xylophone/glockenspiel and beaters if available.

This course is suitable for class teachers, NQTs, TAs, Music Co-ordinators who will be training other staff

Course Leaders:

Sue Nicholls is a freelance Music Education Consultant delivering music courses for teachers and practitioners working at EYFS, KS1 and KS2, as well as leading school-based projects with children. She also works with primary PGCE & BA QTS students at two universities.

Hilary Miles was a Music AST in Northamptonshire for 11 years, and now works as a freelance Music Education Consultant. She has mentored teachers; led whole school productions; whole school Arts Weeks and Music Days; whole school staff meetings. She has written many resources for primary music teachers, including 'Connected to Music' a resource based on work with the RPO and Sinfonia Viva. Hilary's work involves Initial Teacher Training at the University of Northampton where she has written the modules for use of ICT in the primary music classroom. Recent work has included writing 'uses in class' for a new BBC video web-site and work on the BBC 10 Pieces.

Music in Early Years – Beyond the EYFS framework

- Led by John Webb

Course Code: MU 20156-04

Course Objectives

- To explore appropriate music activities in the EY classroom
- To look at music's relevance and use across the EYFS curriculum
- To encourage practitioners to create and adapt their own activities

Course Description

The course will look at a range of EYFS activities and the way they can be used in the classroom. There will be singing, playing instruments, movement activities, activities which encourage children's leadership abilities and social skills, as well as their enthusiasm for exploring music independently. Through these activities we will place music at the heart of the early year's curriculum looking at links to many other curriculum areas.
